

Star-studded Plaza pool

WHEN THE PLAZA reopens next year, residents may spot celebrities in the pool. Radu Teodorescu (below), trainer to stars like Jennifer Lopez, inked a recent deal to move his Radu Physical Culture fitness center to the remodeled landmark.

Mr. Teodorescu, who plays table tennis with Matthew Broderick when he's not creating workout routines for Cindy Crawford, says construction starts this week on the duplex luxury club with swimming pool, basketball court and areas for gymnastics, ping-pong, yoga and dance. The project will run about $3 million and should be completed by February.

The Romanian native also had time to design a smaller project this year: the gym at the Onyx Chelsea condo building. Residents can get evaluations from the fitness guru himself, if they hurry. "I'm not too busy, with The Plaza in construction," he says.
